Police chief chosen as Grand Marshal

Sumpter Township Chief of Police Eric Luke is the grand marshal of the Belleville National Strawberry Festival this year.

Luke's roots run deep in the community. He is a lifelong resident of Van Buren Township and graduated from Belleville High School in 1988 as did his brother, Darrin in 1993. The siblings followed in the footsteps of their parents, James Luke, Jr. and Carol (Johnson) Luke, both 1967 graduates of Belleville High School.

His paternal grandfather, James Luke, Sr. and maternal grandparents, Jack and Mary Faye Johnson, still live in Belleville or Van Buren Township.

Luke graduated from the Washtenaw Police Academy in December 1993 and began his law enforcement career in Sumpter Township in July 1994. He rose steadily through the ranks and was promoted to corporal in 2000, sergeant in 2008, lieutenant in 2010 and captain in 2013. He was named chief of police in February of this year.

"I am very proud to be the first Sumpter Township Police officer (at the time) to attend the School of Police Staff & Command, doing so through the Center of Regional and National Security at Eastern Michigan University. I am also extremely proud to be the first Sumpter Township Police Chief hired from within the department ranks since Chief Clinton Brown in 1978," Luke said.

Luke and his wife, Trully, met while she was a 911 dispatcher for Central Dispatch Network in 1997/98, he said. The couple was married in

Welcome to Belleville

The 40th Annual Belleville National Strawberry Festival would like to welcome you to a weekend of family fun. The Belleville National Strawberry Festival is one of Southeastern Michigan's premier summer events presented by Meijer.

As executive director I would like to thank the City of Belleville, the police and fire department, the Boy Scouts, our sponsors, board of directors and everyone who has worked so hard to make the festival a success.

The Belleville National Strawberry Festival has six venues: Main Street; St. Anthony Church; Belleville Presbyterian Church; Trinity Church; Horizon Park and Victory Park.

Main Street features crafters, a carnival midway, vendors, a children's area featuring a White Tiger exhibit and Chobani Yogurt handing out samples. Be sure to stop by their site. Starting at 11 a.m. on Saturday, there will be a parade and at 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Horizon Park will feature an exciting Extreme Water Sports show. Belleville Central Business District brings juried crafters to Main Street.

Trinity Church will feature all things strawberry including pies, breads, jam and much more. They also feature their famous sloppy joe lunches Saturday and Sunday.

St. Anthony's features bingo, great food, entertainment and a beer tent, plus so much more. There is also a carnival on their grounds sponsored by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Belleville Presbyterian Church features tours of the church, one of the original seven Martha Mary Chapels built by Henry Ford and his wife to honor their mothers, on Saturday and Sunday.

The festival offers free shuttle service with free parking at the Belleville Presbyterian Church on Belleville Road. The trolley will make stops at all six venues.

Come on out to enjoy a weekend of family fun for everyone.

Again, thank you to all who helped with this year's festival.

Joan Bodnar,
Festival Executive Director

Tours of Martha-Mary Chapel available

One of the famous historic Mary Martha Chapels will be open to the public during the Strawberry Festival this year.

The chapel at the Belleville Presbyterian Church is one of the seven historic chapels designed by architect Edward J. Cutler under the direction of Henry and Clara Ford. The chapels were erected throughout the state by the couple as a tribute to their respective mothers, Mary Ford and Martha Bryant.

The Belleville chapel will be open for tours from noon until 6 p.m. on Friday, Saturday and Sunday during the Strawberry Festival and parking at the church is free.

The first Martha Mary Chapel is located in historic Greenfield Village. The Belleville chapel, built in 1939, on Belleville Road was the third of the seven to be constructed. It was erected at the Camp Legion site of Willow Run, approximately 3 miles from where it stands today.

In 1954, the Cherry Hill Baptist Church transferred the chapel from the Willow Run location to Dearborn but the congregation quickly outgrew the capacity of the church.

In 1978, the Belleville United Presbyterian Church in Van Buren Township bought the chapel for $1. It was moved to the current location and an official dedication ceremony took place on Nov. 11, 1979 which was also a celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Belleville United Presbyterian congregation.

The church is listed on the State of Michigan Register of Historic Places and the tours during the festival are free.

The church is located at 11900 Belleville Road. For more information, call (734) 697-8687.

Strawberry delights

Trinity Church offers famous sweet treats, Sloppy Joes

One of the first sights visitors to the Belleville National Strawberry Festival will see is Trinity Episcopal Church, where the culinary treats have helped make the festival famous.

Trinity Episcopal Church is located at 11575 Belleville Road and has been a part of the Belleville National Strawberry Festival since 1977. Trinity has been serving freshly-made glazed strawberry pies and the famous homemade Sloppy Joes for nearly 40 years and has become one of the main attractions for many festival visitors.

In addition to the famous freshly made strawberry pies, the Trinity bakery features a variety of homemade treats such as strawberry bread and muffins, regular and no-sugar-added strawberry freezer jam, tangy strawberry tarts, and strawberry cheesecake. The Trinity food tent has become a traditional place for visitors to stop for lunch or dinner during the Strawberry Festival. Their homemade Sloppy Joes, made from scratch in the Trinity kitchen, have been a favorite of festival goers for 39 years. They are prepared by members of the congregation from a well-guarded recipe.

The church also offers sloppy nachos which smother

crunchy tortilla chips with meaty Sloppy Joe and nacho cheese sauce. The church also offers regular nachos and all-beef hot dogs, along with their equally famous strawberry shortcake. The light and tender shortcakes, baked specially for the festival, are covered with a heaping scoop of sweetened strawberries and topped with real whipped cream. There are also strawberry or hot fudge sundaes, personal glazed pies, strawberry tarts, slices of strawberry cheesecake or fresh strawberries to dip in powdered sugar or hot fudge.

Thirsty? Many festival goers say they wait all year for the sweet and creamy strawberry smoothie offered only at Trinity Church.

Visitors can also enjoy the many crafters and vendors set up at Trinity home during the festival. Offerings this year include honey and beeswax, sea salt scrubs, handcrafted jewelry, blown glass items, soy comfort candles, henna tattoos, gourmet dog treats, quilts, baby gifts and crafts, face painting and caricatures, therapeutic magnetic jewelry, handmade chocolate candies, Mary Kay Cosmetics, Perfectly Posh, Tupperware and many others.

New at Trinity this year is the free Karaoke Tent which will be open from 6-9 p.m. on Friday, from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. and from 5-8 p.m. on Saturday and from noon until 3 p.m. on Sunday. Everyone who sings will receive a raffle ticket for a great prize to be awarded after each session.

Fifty percent of the proceeds from the Trinity Strawberry Festival activities are used to support community projects. In years past, the proceeds have helped support Hope Clinic, Helping Hand Food Pantry, Belleville Emergency Food Closet, Alternatives for Girls, Crossroads, Mariner's Inn, and Adopt-A-Child Size among others. The other half of the proceeds is used to fund special projects and events at the church.

The Trinity kitchen will be open from 4-9 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. on Saturday and from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Sunday. Trinity is the first church visible when drivers exit I-94 into Belleville.

Credit cards will be accepted at the bakery and food tent, the parking is free. Trinity is also one of the National Strawberry Festival Trolley stops. For more information about Trinity or the Strawberry Festival activities, visit www.trinitybell.org.

Township Hall is part of area history

Visitors to the Strawberry Festival will also have the opportunity to see one of the most historic buildings in the area, constructed in 1875,

The building is now the home of the Belleville Area Museum and Historical Society and houses many artifacts and treasures marking the history of the city and Van Buren Township. The building is still owned by Van Buren Township and was the first official town hall of the community. In 1875, after official business of the township had been conducted for 40 years in private homes, stores and rented quarters, voters in the township agreed during the spring election to erect a one-story brick town hall.

The township leaders agreed to appropriate $1,500 for the construction and Robert Patterson Clark,

William Crawford and Thomas Quirk were appointed to oversee the project, now located on Main Street in what is downtown Belleville.

Members of the Belleville Grange No. 331 requested permission from the township officials to add a second story onto the planned building to be used for their meetings. The group had been organized for about a year and township voters approved the proposal to double the size of the town hall. The Grange donated the brick and lumber for the construction.

Township business and Grange meetings took place in the town hall and continued even after the Village of Belleville incorporated in 1905. The Main Street building was no longer part of Van Buren Township, but now in Belleville. Nevertheless, official township business and offices were housed in the building until 1959 when new offices were constructed on Tyler Road at a site located within township boundaries.

The building, now 141 years old, has served numerous functions in addition to the town meetings. Residents voted in the building, got their drivers licenses, paid their taxes and even borrowed library books. The building has been the site of dances, concerts, showers, church services, service club meetings, blood drives and was even an Army recruiting station.

After the move of township hall to Tyler Road, however, the building was the home of Oxbow Realty, The Belleville Enterprise, Adventure Travel and the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce before it was dedicated to the preservation of local history.

In 1995, a major restoration took place at the old township hall and the museum moved into the historic building from the old Quirk School where it first opened in 1989. Many exhibits have been added to the small scale replicas of historic buildings it once housed. Two years later, in 1997, original receipts from the 1875 construction of the building were donated to the museum by a descendant of one of the original building, Robert Patterson Clark.

The building, located at 405 Main St. has regularly scheduled hours from 1-5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. It is funded by a tri-community agreement with Van Buren and Sumpter townships and the City of Belleville.

For information about the museum, call (734) 697-1944.

Strawberry delight

Annual queen pageant will choose festival royalty, award scholarships

Six young women from Belleville are vying this week to become the queen of the 40th Annual National Strawberry Festival.

It's a lot more than just a pageant, however. The Queen Pageant has long been a major part of the annual festival which is celebrated throughout the community.

Originally the Strawberry Queen Pageant took place on St. Anthony's Catholic Church grounds under the direction of 24-year coordinator and volunteer organizer Diane Ferguson.

The Queen Pageant moved to Belleville High School Auditorium in 1982 and Hazel Bigham was mistress of ceremonies and continued in that position until 1992. In 1993 and 1994, Martha Piney took over those responsibilities and then in 1995 and 1996 former Strawberry Queens Veronica Watson and Angela Myers co-hosted the event. In 1997, former Queens Mitzie Herkimer and Shannon Tarris were the co-hosts. In 1998, Angela Myers, the 1993 Queen, and Andrea Brown, the 1994 Queen, co-hosted the event. Angela Myers Kerner became the Pageant Coordinator in 1999 through 2006.

In 2007 through 2009 Jennifer Leonard was the pageant coordinator. In 2010 through 2014 there was no Belleville Strawberry Queen Pageant because of funding. The Belleville Strawberry Queen Pageant was brought back in 2015 and Joyce Rochowiak of Garden Fantasy has been the pageant coordinator since then with other volunteers.

The women hoping to take home the honor, and the scholarship money this year, are all residents of the Belleville area, single and between the ages of 16 and 20. The Strawberry Queen will take home a $1,000 scholarship, trophy and assorted gifts that accompany the title. The second and third place runners up will each receive a $500 scholarship and gifts donated by local merchants.

The contestants will each participate in a dance performance by the group, perform an individual talent, appear in evening wear and answer questions presented to them by the pageant moderator.

The queen will be selected during the pageant which is planned for 7:30 p.m. Friday, June 17 at the Belleville High School auditorium on West Columbia.

The contestants this year including sisters, all of whom will be seen in the parade Saturday, include, in alphabetical order:

Evelyn Gitzen, 17, of Westland. She is the daughter of Tom and Jen Gitzen and is currently a student at Belleville High School. Her creative talent in the pageant is singing and she is a member of the choir at school. She said that music is a special interest and she is planning a career as a hair stylist.

Ivy Gitzen, 16, also the daughter of Tom and Jen Gitzen of Westland. She, too, is a student at Belleville High School and is involved in graphic design at school. Her hobbies include singing, baking and cooking along with interior design. Her performing talent, like her sister's, is singing. She is hoping for a career in interior design and was involved in the New Tech Soup Project.

Alexis Hatchard, 19, is currently pursuing pre-law studies at Eastern Michigan University. The future attorney hopes to practice corporate law when she completes her education. She is the daughter of James and Deidre Hatchard of Belleville. She is also a member of the parish at St. Anthony Church and enjoys reading, acting, baking and cooking. Her creative talent in the pageant was acting.

Savanna Titsworth, 17, is a student at Belleville High School. She is the daughter of Angela Miller and is also interested in singing and the choir. Her special interests include art and music and she performed as a singer during the talent portion of the pageant. She hopes to pursue a career in nursing after leaving high school.
